ADMIN

Volunteer service is unpaid unless Niyán Foundation expressly agrees otherwise in writing and does not create an employment relationship. Volunteer opportunities may be modified or ended at the Foundation's discretion. Applicants must provide truthful information and comply with confidentiality, child-safeguarding, conduct, safety, and data-handling requirements applicable to any assigned role. Personal information is collected only as reasonably necessary to review applications, communicate with applicants, assess suitability, administer volunteer activities, and maintain records. Sensitive information is handled with care and is not publicly disclosed except with authorization or where required by applicable law.
